

Clinical Guidelines for Full-Arch Rehabilitation of the Edentulous Patient

TECHNOLOGY FORUM

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

Patients with debilitated dentition often seek rehabilitation to quickly regain their confidence and quality of life. Immediate full-arch restoration can be an excellent solution for meeting patient demands and expectations. This full-day program demonstrates a step-by-step, practical approach to both delivering a provisional full-arch prosthesis on the day of implant placement and later creating an aesthetic, functional definitive prosthesis.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:

At the completion of the program, participants should be able to:

- Understand the scientific basis for immediate occlusal loading of edentulous jaws.
- Use a decision tree to determine which patients are the best candidates for immediate full-arch therapy.
- Develop a plan for fabricating an immediate full-arch provisional restoration with the aid of the Revitalize™ Guidelines.
- Identify the surgical and prosthetic components required for clinical treatment.

Furat M. George, BDS, MS

Dr. George received his dental degree from the University of Baghdad, College of Dentistry and his prosthodontic specialty training at the University of Michigan, School of Dentistry. Dr. George is currently a Clinical Associate Professor in the department of Biologic and Materials Sciences and Prosthodontics, Co-director of the Pre-doctoral Implant Program and Director of the Graduate Prosthodontics Clinic. He is a member of the American College of Prosthodontists, a member of the International Association for Dental Research and the American Association for Dental Research, and a Fellow of the International Congress of Oral Implantologists. His research interests are in the field of dental ceramics and the utilization of CAD/CAM technology in dentistry and research. Dr. George serves as a reviewer for multiple scientific journals and has multiple publications in the field of prosthodontics and dental implants. His private practice is limited to prosthodontics and implant dentistry.
